From the Publisher

Preparation and publication of lists of geographical names results from an UN resolution. Its aim is to standardize the geographical names used in official relations, as well as cartographic publications, handbooks, the press and other mass media. Geographical names have an important role to perform in providing information. In the face of political changes occurring worldwide, it is necessary to publish official, updated lists of names.

The Geodesy and Cartography Law provides that the Commission on Standardization of Geographical Names Outside the Republic of Poland acts at the Surveyor General of Poland. In accordance with § 3, item 1, point 2 of the Regulation of the Minister of the Interior and Administration of 24th March 2000 on the manner and scope of activity of the Commission, it shall prepare the official lists of Polish names of countries and non-self-governing territories. The third edition of the “Official List of Names of Countries and Non-Self-Governing Territories” (“Urzędowy wykaz nazw państw i terytoriów niesamodzielnych”), prepared in consultation with the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, constitutes an implementation of the content of the regulation mentioned above.

It includes the changes in geographical names occurred since the publication of the second edition in 2013. In accordance with § 3 item 3 of the regulation mentioned above, the official list of names of countries and non-self-governing territories is published for use by entities responsible for executing public tasks in the territory of the Republic of Poland.

I believe that the present publication, prepared by a team of specialists, first of all geographers and linguists, will contribute to correct use of geographical names and will be helpful for many people and institutions.

Introduction

This inset includes a translation of the introductory part of the Polish language publication entitled Urzędowy wykaz nazw państw i terytoriów niesamodzielnych, i.e. editorial page, table of contents, “From the Publisher”, introduction, Romanization rules, explanation of abbreviations, Polish-English dictionaries of countries, territories and languages, as well as a translation of the footnotes contained in the publication.

The Official List of Names of Countries and Non-Self-Governing Territories (Urzędowy wykaz nazw państw i terytoriów niesamodzielnych) contains 195 names of countries recognized by the Republic of Poland (namely: 193 member states of the United Nations Organization, Kosovo, and Vatican City) and 69 non-self-governing territories. Appendix to the register is a list of ten territories with an undetermined or disputed international status. The correct spelling of the names of countries and their capitals has been provided, which the Commission on Standardization of Geographical Names Outside the Republic of Poland (KSNG) recommends for common use in Polish texts such as encyclopaedias, tourist guide-books, textbooks, publications written in order to obtain an academic degree, in the press and electronic media, and especially on maps. The publication takes into account the resolutions of the Commission passed until November 4, 2015.

Incorrect use of geographical names occurs not only over the Internet and in the press, but even in books and on maps. For example, instead of the name Holandia [Holland], which since the 19th century has been the name of the entire country in Polish, sometimes the name Niderlandy [Netherlands] is used; the form Erewan still can be found in print in spite of the fact that the lists of names published since 1986 recommend the use of the traditional name of Erywań [Yerevan] only; the name Phenian can be frequently seen, although the name recommended since 2006 is Pjongjang [Pyongyang].

The present list enables correct use of names of countries, territories and their capitals by public administration officers, authors and editors of texts as well as everyone wishing to write and speak correct Polish. It also provides declension forms of the names, words derived from the names of countries and territories, as well as additional information. In accordance with the recommendations of the United Nations Organization, for all Polonized names (exonyms), the official equivalents (endonyms) have been provided in their original spelling or in a Romanized form (transcription and transliteration).

In Polish, names of countries, territories and their capitals are used either in a Polonized form (such as Szwecja [Sweden], Sztokholm [Stockholm]) or in the original one (Chile, Santiago). The Commission recommends the use of traditional names (exonyms), which have been well-established in Polish. Traditional names of countries which form part of our cultural heritage and should be preserved in the modern Polish language are for example Holandia [Holland], Moldawia [Moldavia], Włochy [Italy] and Wybrzeże Kości Słoniowej [Ivory Coast]. The Commission does not approve of replacing those names with the original names or names close to original ones: Niderlandy [Netherlands], Moldowa [Moldova], Italia, Côte d'Ivoire. However, in accordance with the recommendations of the UN, the Commission tried to eliminate some unnecessary Polonized forms that have not been widely known and used, or their form has been controversial. Consequently, names such as Niamey, Monrovia or Reykjavik shall remain in their original forms, although the previously recommended forms were Niamej, Monrowia and Rejkiawik. It is recommended to use one short name and one official name for the same country. Therefore, the names: Kirgistan [Kyrgyzstan], Rwanda, Saint Kitts i Nevis [Saint Kitts and Nevis] have been approved, while the use of their variants – Kirgizja, Ruanda, Saint Christopher i Nevis – is discouraged. An exception was made for Macedonia and Vatican City, for which – as suggested by the Ministry of Foreign Affairs – two full names have been established: Republika Macedonii [Republic of Macedonia] and Była Jugosłowiańska Republika Macedonii [The former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia]; Państwo Watykańskie [Vatican City State] and Stolica Apostolska [Holy See]. Furthermore, for two countries variant short names have been recommended: Mjanma [Myanmar] and Birma [Burma]; Wielka Brytania [Great Britain] and Zjednoczone Królestwo [United Kingdom].

The names of countries, territories and their capitals included in the list have been approved by the Polish Ministry of Foreign Affairs. Any footnotes clarifying the status or the names of states and territories come from the Ministry.

Detailed information

Part I. Countries

The names of countries have been put in alphabetical order. All the entries have been prepared according to a one pattern:

Andora [Andorra] Europa [Europe]

pol. [Polish] Andora, D. [genitive] Andory, Mc. [locative] Andorze;

Księstwo Andory [Principality of Andorra]

kataloński [Catalan] Andorra; Principat d'Andorra

przym. [adjective] andorski

obyw. [name of the citizen] Andorczyk, Andorka, Andorczycy [Andorran]

stol. [capital] Andora, D. [genitive] Andory, Mc. [locative] Andorze – Andorra la Vella

Besides the entry name – the short name of the country in Polish – the location of the given country has been provided (part of the world)*. The entry contains five items preceded by explanatory abbreviations:

- 1) Pol. – short name of the country in Polish (in the nominative [bold], genitive [D.], and locative [Mc.]) and the official, full name (in the nominative case, and where the declension of a name may cause problems, also in the genitive and locative cases). Where only the short name is given (for example Ukraina [Ukraine]), it means that this is also the official name. In the case of some countries commonly used in Polish abbreviations have been provided, such as RFN [Germany].
- 2) Name of the official language – the short name of the country and its full official name in the official language (or languages).
- 3) Przym. – adjective derived from the name of the country in Polish (in its nominative singular masculine form).
- 4) Obyw. – name of the citizens of the country in Polish in its nominative singular masculine and feminine forms as well as the plural masculine form.
- 5) Stol. – name of the capital of the country used in Polish; if its spelling is Polonized, it is followed by the name in the official language.

* Afryka = Africa; Ameryka Południowa = South America; Ameryka Północna = North America; Antarktyda = Antarctica; Australia i Oceania = Australia and Oceania; Azja = Asia; Europa = Europe.

For countries and capitals whose names are originally written in a non-Roman script, either traditional Polonized names are used (such as Jemen [Yemen] or Pekin [Beijing]) or ones in their Polish transcription (such as Dżibuti [Djibouti] or Astana). In both cases, the original name in its Romanized form has also been laid down. In most cases, the Romanization of geographical names followed the guidelines of the United Nations Organization, the International Organization for Standardization (ISO) or BGN/PCGN*. A detailed list of the Romanization systems is provided on pages XIII, XIV, and XV. A simplified Polish transcription of the name has been provided in the second place, for example:

pol. [Polish] Algeria [Algeria], D. [genitive] Algierii, Mc. [locative] Algierii; Algierska Republika Ludowo-Demokratyczna [People's Democratic Republic of Algeria]

stol. [capital] Algier [Alger], D. [genitive] Algieru, Mc. [locative] Algierze – trl. [transliteration] Al-Jazā'ir, trb. [transcription] Al-Dżaza'ir

The transcription rules were applied as approved by the Commission for the purposes of the preparation of the twelve-volume Geographical Names of the World (Nazewnictwo geograficzne świata; 2004–2010) and the Official List of Polish Geographical Names of the World (Urzędowy wykaz polskich nazw geograficznych świata; 2013). Absence of Polish transcription (for example in the case of Chinese, Korean or Thai names) means that only the use of the international Romanization system is recommended in Polish publications.

The Commission is not involved in the standardization of derivatives from the names of countries (adjectives and names of citizens); these are provided for information purposes only, and they are in line with the opinion provided by the Orthography and Onomastics Unit of the Council for the Polish Language at the Presidium of the Polish Academy of Sciences (Zespół Ortograficzno-Onomastyczny Rady Języka Polskiego PAN). In some cases, variants mentioned in normative dictionaries of the Polish language have been provided, for example afgański and afganistański [Afghan]; Bahrańczyk and Bahrajńczyk [Bahraini]. The fact that one of the variant forms has been put first does not mean that this specific form has been considered more worthy of recommendation than others. If no adjective or name of a citizen exist, the respective item has been omitted in the list. This means that descriptive forms such as “rząd Wybrzeża Kości Słoniowej” [“government of the Ivory Coast”] or “obywatel Wysp Marshalla” [“citizen of the Marshall Islands”] are recommended.

Part II. Non-self-governing territories

The selection of those territories was a problematic one, as there are no criteria that would allow to unambiguously determine whether a particular area constitutes a non-self-governing territory or is an integral part of a specific country. The list of non-self-governing territories of 2015 provided by the UN mentions only 17 entries (including Western Sahara, treated by the Republic of Poland as a territory with undetermined international status). Consequently, lists of French, the United States of America, and the United Kingdom overseas territories issued by competent authorities of the respective countries (Ministère des Outre-mer, U.S. Department of the Interior/Office of Insular Affairs, and Foreign & Commonwealth Office) were used. In the remaining cases, the factors considered were the distance from the mother country, a special administrative status as well as the fact that a particular territory had been traditionally regarded as a “dependent” or an “overseas” one in Polish and foreign information publications.

The list of names of non-self-governing territories is arranged in a similar way to the list of names of countries. The entry name is followed by information on the territory location (part of the world or, in exceptional cases, ocean) and its political affiliation (name of the country).

Gwadelupa [Guadelupe]

Ameryka Północna [North America]

Francja [France]

pol. [Polish] Gwadelupa, D. [genitive] Gwadelupy, Mc. [locative]

Gwadelupie

fr. [French] Guadeloupe; région Guadeloupe

przym. [adjective] gwadelupski

mieszk. [resident] Gwadelupczyk, Gwadelupka, Gwadelupczycy stol. [capital] Basse-Terre ndm. [no declension]

In many cases, no adjectives or names of inhabitants are derived from a territory name, and some non-self-governing territories have no capital. In such cases, the respective entries have been shortened by omitting the blank items.

An addendum to the alphabetical list is the list of non-self-governing territories arranged according to the countries they depend from.

Appendix: Territories with undetermined or disputed international status and others

The appendix contains ten territories with special international status. First and foremost, these are territories with an undetermined ultimate status such as Palestine, Western Sahara or the Spratly Islands. The second group consists of separatist territories which have unilaterally proclaimed their independence, sometimes only recognized by few countries. None of such quasi-states is recognized by the Republic of Poland. They are included in the list, since their names frequently appear in the press, electronic media, books and on maps, therefore knowing their correct form is essential.

The entry has a similar arrangement to the one dedicated to a non-self-governing territory. The entry name is followed by the status of the territory, and in case of separatist territories a note has been given regarding the country it forms part of according to the international law.

Name index

The alphabetical index contains entry names of countries, territories and capitals used in the Polish language.

Abchazja (p. 61)

The territory which formally is a part of Georgia, while practically remains beyond its control. The fact that the name “Abchazja” [Abkhazia] has been included in the list shall not be understood as recognition by the Republic of Poland of the so-called Republic of Abkhazia, functioning de facto on that territory.

Names used by the Abkhazian authorities. Georgia uses the following names: Georgian trl. Apkhazeti, trb. Apchazeti; trl. Apkhazetis Avt’onomiuri Resp’ublik’a, trb. Apchazetis Awtonomiuri Respublika // Abkhaz trl. Apsny, trb. Apsny; trl. Apsnytái Avtonomtái Respublika, trb. Apsnytyj Awtonomtyj Respublika.

Cypr Północny (p. 61)

Poland only recognizes one state on Cyprus: the Republic of Cyprus with which diplomatic relations were established in 1961. In 2004 the Republic of Cyprus became a member of the European Union. The relations of the European Union with the northern part of the island are governed by appropriate regulations of the Council of the European Union.

Górski Karabach (p. 62)

A territory which formally is a part of the Republic of Azerbaijan, while practically remains beyond its control. The fact that the name “Górski Karabach” [Nagorno-Karabakh] has been included in the list shall not be understood as recognition by the Republic of Poland of the so-called Republic of Nagorno-Karabakh, functioning de facto on that territory.

Naddniestrze (p. 62)

A territory which formally is a part of the Republic of Moldova, while practically remains beyond its control. The fact that the name “Naddniestrze” [Transnistria] has been included in the list shall not be understood as recognition by the Republic of Poland of the so-called Pridnestrovian Moldavian Republic, functioning de facto on that territory.

Osetia Południowa (p. 62)

A territory which formally is a part of Georgia, while practically remains beyond its control. The fact that the name “Osetia Południowa” [South Ossetia] has been included in the list shall not be understood as recognition by the Republic of Poland of the so-called Republic of South Ossetia, functioning de facto on that territory.

Names used by the South Ossetian authorities. Georgia uses the following names: trl. Tskhinvalis Region, trb. Cchinwalis Region (Georgian).

Palestyna (p. 63)

A territory comprising the West Bank and the Gaza Strip. Pursuant to the Oslo Accords between Israel and Palestine of 1994, the Palestinian National Authority was created in that area until an ultimate peace settlement is reached. The United Nations General Assembly resolution 67/19 of November 29, 2012 granted Palestine a non-member observer state status in the United Nations. The Palestinian side officially uses the name of “State of Palestine”. This name is also applied by the UN Secretariat. The process of obtaining international personality by Palestine is still in course. Poland recognized the act of proclamation of the State of Palestine, adopted by the Palestinian National Council (parliament in exile) in Alger on November 15, 1988. Poland supports the idea of the Palestinian statehood in line with the two-state solution adopted by the international community as the final result of the negotiations with the Israeli side.

Sahara Zachodnia (p. 64)

The former dependent territory of Spain whose large part is currently administered by Morocco and incorporated as an integral part of the state into administrative structures of regions. Several countries and organizations, including the African Union, recognize the Sahrawi Arab Democratic Republic that was proclaimed here. It actually controls part of the area. UN recognizes Western Sahara as a non-self-governing territory which final status is to be determined through a referendum.

Somaliland (p. 64)

A territory which formally is a part of the Federal Republic of Somalia, while practically remains beyond its control. The fact that the name “Somaliland” has been included in the list shall not be understood as recognition by the Republic of Poland of the so-called Republic of Somaliland, functioning de facto on that territory.

Tajwan (p. 65)

Name unrecognized by Poland; in some international organizations Taiwan acts under the English name “Chinese Taipei” (Chinese Zhonghua Taipei).

Wyspy Spratly (p. 65)

A group of islands in the South China Sea which are the object of a dispute between China, the Philippines, Malaysia, Taiwan, and Vietnam.
